H. E. McRILL & CO.,

WE STILL OFFER

Our home "Riverview" for sale. This property is not equalled in the state at the price that we offer it for. To any one wanting a home with every modern improvement, located superbly, with ample grounds surrounding it and at a price below cost, this is the golden chance.

We offer this property for sale solely because it is too large for us to occupy and our desire is to build a smaller one. If we can sell this within the next 15 days (before May 1st), we will do so on the easiest of terms. If not sold previous to May 1st we shall begin house-keeping in it and withdraw it from the market.

Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

For An Investment

We have a property centrally located, rented for $21.50 per month, payable in advance. It is sure to rent for this or more for all time. This is over eight and a half per cent, on the price we ask for it.

There is a mortgage of $1600 to run 3 or 5 years at seven per cent.

Our price is $3000; $1000 cash, $400 to be secured on the property ten years at seven per cent. Let's figure it out, it will take $140 a year to pay your interest on the $2000; tax is $15; insurance $5. Take this amount $160 in all from the $258 rental and it leaves you $98 net for the use of your $1000. Besides this the property is sure to advance from $200 to $500 within 5 years. It is worth looking into.

Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

Yesterday, April 13th

The masons began plastering our pretty little six room house. We expect to be able to deliver this house first week in May, all complete. We will sell it on the easiest of monthly payments with a cash not to exceed $300. In fact you can make terms with us that cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Let us show you this place.

Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

That Little Cottage

At $800; $100 cash; $500 mortgage, balance payable $5.00 per month, deferred payments, bearing interest at seven percent is a little home somebody wants. Come and see us.

Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

Homesites Galore

In Forest Park, Glad-Etta, Riverview, Carrington, Wheeler and Whitehead's addition, Riverside and Spring Brook. In these six beautiful additions are located the most attractive lots for speculation also, in the city of Janesville. Buy anywhere in any one of these localities and you have a SURE THING. If you are in want of investments to pay a profit, invest here. If you want a homesite you make a mistake if you buy without seeing us.

Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

MANY STRIKERS SLAIN.

Mobs of Working Men Attack European Soldiers

SHOTS ANSWER STONES.

A Lyons Mob Overcomes the Police Several Times, and the Cavalry Are Called in to Disperse the Rioters.

ROME, May 2—[Special]—Six Cypriotes, socialists, leaders and twenty-five others, were wounded by the volleys delivered against the strikers. At the time of the assault an anarchist speaker was urging the assembled men to attack the police. The speaker's words so excited his hearers that soon after the mob stoned the troops which were stationed in the neighborhood. Some of the rioters hurled stones at the troops from the windows of houses in the neighborhood. The gendarmes, at this point, fired upon the rioters, and the cavalry immediately after charged upon those who had not been put to flight by the gendarmes' fire. At the same time the infantry soldiers near the scene of the riot were ordered to storm the house from which the stones had been thrown.

Later on a sharp conflict occurred between the soldiers and a mob in Victor Emmanuel square. Several persons were injured and a trooper was killed. Altogether one hundred persons were arrested today, nine soldiers and five civilians were wounded.

THOUGHT HE'D TAKE A DAY OFF.

A Northern New York Elder's Reply to a Committee of Church Folks.

A leading railroad man of Cincinnati gave a dinner party. Around the board were several New Yorkers who, toward the end of the feast, told stories out of their religious experiences.

"Up in Lawrence county," said a grim looking party, grizzly of hair, square of jaw and deliberate, as if addressing a jury, "there was once a worthy elder of the church named Joe Parker. Joe was a God fearing man, a good husband and father, upright in his business as a farmer and a most respectable citizen every way. One day he hitched his team loaded it with produce and went to Potsdam. Night fell, but Joe did not come. His family were greatly alarmed. His son posted with all haste to Potsdam, only to learn that his father sold his beans and potatoes and started off homeward a little before dusk.

"Search proved unavailing, but, the next afternoon up-drove Joe's horse to the gate, broken, winded, and all of a lather. His master slowly descended to the ground, a sorry spectacle—his clothes torn, his face badly bruised, part of his front scalp missing. With unsteady steps Joe found his room. Next day the minister and the other elders of the church called upon him.

"Brother Parker," said the man of God, "we visit you to have some explanation of the extraordinary events which have overtaken you this week."

"How long have I bin a member of the church, boys and man?"

"Forty-six years, my brother."

"Ain't I walked in the ways of the Lord yore perpendicular dooin' that time?"

"Yes, my brother; few have been privileged to serve the Lord so well."

"Six and forty year is a pretty good while, ain't it?"

"Yes, my brother."

"Wall, I thought so, too, and so I kinder thought I'd take a day off."

The story-teller was Thomas G. Shearman, the whilom superintendent of Plymouth Sunday-school—New York Sun.

Why She Wrote It.

Some of the most stimulating hymns have been "songs of the night." The whispered slanders of gossip begot the hymn, "I Love to Steal Away," which has been the comfort of thousands of tried men and women.

Phoebe Brown, its author, a wife and mother living in poverty, used to stroll away at dusk to a neighboring grove, where she could meditate and pray.

The village gossip put their own coarse construction upon these evening walks. One of them, a woman whose house adjoined the grove, said to her, with a tone and manner more irritating than the words:

"Mrs. Brown, why do you come up at evening so near our house, and then go back without coming in?"

That evening Mrs. Brown, grieved in spirit, sat in the kitchen, rocking her babe and weeping. Then she laid the infant in its cradle, and gave expression to her feelings in nine stanzas of verse, which she entitled, "My Apology for My Twilight Rambles, Addressed to a Lady."

Several years afterward she prepared it as a hymn, suppressing four stanzas and altering a few expressions.—Youth's Companion.

Left His Name Behind Him.
When Baron von Seidlitz-Leipe, Brewer Ehret's son-in-law, arrived at the Hoboken pier of the North German Lloyd Steamship company recently he was met by Capt. Hamelman, formerly of the steamer Werra, and now in charge of the company's piers. "What is your name?" asked the captain of the noble stranger, preparing to enter the reply in his record. The baron began to enumerate his various titles and Christian names, but had only got half through when the captain interrupted him; with: "Oh, hang it, you left all those in Germany. You're in America now. What's your last name?" The baron, who was exceedingly taken aback, gave the desired information and finally passed on to meet his ship.

SERIOUS SHARON RUNAWAY.

Mrs. James Eckert Badly Hurt in a Tip-Over.

SHARON, May 2—As Mr. and Mrs. James Eckert were driving into town one of the horses became frightened and commenced to kick, breaking the tongue of the wagon. They started to run, driving the tongue into the ground and overturning the wagon, breaking one of Mrs. Eckert's ribs and injuring her internally.

EARTHQUAKE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Buildings Given a Very Severe Shaking Up Much Apprehension Caused.

NEW YORK, May 2—Earthquake shocks of greater or less severity and duration are reported from Concord, Keene, Concord, Manchester and other New Hampshire towns, occurring at 7:30 last night, causing some apprehension and in several instances giving buildings a severe shaking up. The tremor continued for fifteen or twenty seconds.

An Electrical Wedding.

The bride was Miss Jeannette Ries (now Mrs. Lewis S. Greensfelden), and the nuptial novelty was due to the enthusiasm of her brother, the electrician and inventor.

Electrician Ries was master of ceremonies. The marriage was at the house of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. E. Ries, and, of course, there was no unseemly spectacular interruption of the solemn knot tying.

But no sooner had the company been comfortably seated at the banquet table than the room burst into a flood of light from numerous varicolored incandescent electric lamps hidden among the decorations and suspended at various points above the heavily laden tables. The entrance of the bride and groom was welcomed by the automatic ringing of electric bells and the playing of electrical musical instruments.

After the first course had been served the room was plunged into semi-darkness, when suddenly from among the floral decorations upon the table there glowed tiny electric lamps, lending an exquisite charm and attraction to the scene. Not only the flowers, but the interior of the translucent vases in which some of them were gathered scintillated with flashes of light. After a while a miniature electric lamp, which in some unexplained manner had attached itself to the bride's hair, was seen to glow with dazzling brightness.

Mr. E. E. Ries gave a toast to the couple, wishing long life and an enjoyment of good things like those spread before them. He concluded with an injunction to be temperate in all things, at the same time touching an electric button, when two serpents slowly uncoiled themselves and issued from the wine bottle that stood before the bride couple.

Cigars and coffee were served, and the cigars were lighted by an electric heater, while the coffee was boiled in full view of the company by an electric lighter. The speeches that were made were liberally applauded by an electric kettle drum placed under the table. It treated all with impartiality. As the company dispersed the electric current set off a novel pyrotechnic display, amid the crimson glare of which the festivities ended.—Baltimore Sun.

Strategy.

Even an extremely aggressive enemy can be easily conquered by strategy; it is only a question of employing the stratagem exactly fitted to the case. An open air preacher of East London understood this very well, and his stratagem fitted to a charm. He was addressing a crowd, when a soldier who had been drinking came up and loudly ridiculed the service.

Finding that it was useless to ignore the man, the preacher said, "Ah, my friend, you're no soldier; you've only borrowed those gay, red clothes! No servant of the queen would get drunk and interrupt a peaceful service."

The man warmly protested that he was a soldier, and invited the preacher to test him.

"Very well," was the reply, "I will. Now then, 'Stand at ease!'"

The soldier did as well as his condition allowed. "Right about face!" This order was also obeyed, though with some trouble.

"Now, quick march!" and off went the valiant soldier, marching down the Mile-end road at a vigorous pace, while the preacher resumed his discourse.—Youth's Companion.

FIGHTS THE NEW MAP.

A. J. Turner Declares the Gerry-mander Unconstitutional.

WILL FIGHT IT BITTERLY

He Claims That Section 4 of Article 4 of the Constitution, in Regard to the Apportionment, Has Been Disregarded.

MILWAUKEE, May 2—[Special]—Assemblyman A. J. Turner, of Portage county, will contest the democratic reapportionment by legal process. Turner claims that the reapportionment is unconstitutional. Section four of article four of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin is the one which is claimed to have been violated. The section provides that in the apportionment of assembly districts, the said districts "must consist of contiguous territory, and be as compact form as possible."

The democratic apportioners made no pretense of observing this rule, and their gerrymander is therefore held to be unconstitutional.

NORTH JOHNSON NEWS.

The Death of Daniel Abbott After a Brief Illness.

NORTH JOHNSON, April 29—Daniel Abbott, who has been sick for some time, quietly passed away last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to enter into the rest that remaineth, to the children of God. The next afternoon at 2 o'clock the friends and neighbors gathered at his home to pay the last and respects to him, who for forty-five years has been a resident in this community. In the death of Mr. Abbott, the home is left desolate, his wife, preceding him to her heavenly home some three years since. He leaves two brothers, E. C. Abbott, of Jehanstown, and Walter, of Iowa, who were present at the funeral. Besides more distant relatives and many friends to mourn his death, for a good man and neighbor is taken from our midst. He will be greatly missed, but with his sheaves garnered, his life labor o'er, he has gone home, to the mansion of his heavenly assistance. Rev. Dean, of Milton, officiated at the funeral services.

Mr. and Mrs. Ainslie Thorpe, of Milton Junction, visited at C. B. Palmer's last Sunday. Mr. Thorpe, of Whitewater, accompanied them home.

Mrs. O. H. Truesdell, of Fairwater, Wisconsin, visited her sister, Mrs. H. A. Johnson, and attended services here last Sabbath.

Mrs. Martha Lovelace, who has been absent the last ten week visiting friends in Green county, returned home last Tuesday.

O. N. Remis spent last Sabbath at Milton Junction with his father, who has been very sick all winter. His many friends will be glad to learn that at the present writing he is much better.

Hale Foster of Elkhorn, died at A. Johnson's last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson attended the anniversary of the I. O. O. F. at Delavan last Saturday.

Covenant meeting at the church next Saturday at 2 o'clock, and it is expected that Rev. G. H. Hubbard, of Honey Creek, will be with us to conduct services on the following Sabbath.

E. B. Burbanck, of Elkhorn, and his sister, Mrs. Henry Hudson, and daughter Minnie, of Stoughton, Missouri, were callers at A. Johnson's last Sunday evening.

THE PROTEST WORRIES THEM.

Even democrats admit that an outrage was perpetrated when the legislative germicide went through. Says the Madison Democrat:
"Republicans, you simply play the baby when you snivel about an unjust apportionment. Be men.
To protest against a political crime, then; to complain because counties are covered and all chance of local representation done away with, is to be unmanly. The Milwaukee Sentinel thoroughly exposes the absurdity of the Democrats' code of ethics by this simple proposition. When an unmistakable outrage is committed, when the constitution is deliberately violated, there seem to be only two ways open to the persons who are outraged, to the people who are injured: One course is to laugh about it—that is 'bearing it like a man'; the other is to protest—that is 'whining like a whipped cur' or 'playing the baby act.' Thus, the democrats committed an unprecedented outrage in the legislative germicide. The republicans protest indignantly against it. The Madison Democrat calls this 'whining like a whipped cur.' They continue to protest and urge the consideration of some method by which such an outrage may be prevented in the future. This is 'whining.' An unjust apportionment then, is not to be complained of. To complain of it is to snivel. It is mainly to submit without murmur to the grossest of outrages, to admitted injustice, then it is unmanly to bring a burglar to justice.

Ex-Senator Blair admits now that our words sometimes return to plague us when we least expect them. The ex-senator's speech against the Chinese was made so many years ago that Americans had forgotten it. The inhabitants of the Celestial kingdom have remarkable memories, and when the father of the educational bill and a speech seven days long was appointed minister to China they quietly but firmly intimated to the president that no welcome to him would be extended.
There is a marked difference of opinion between German and French newspaper comment on the life and death of Von Moltke. The German newspapers regard the dead general as one of the greatest of soldiers and the French as one of the cruelest. In Germany he was a hero; in France a barbarian and invader. It is from such contradictions that the truth of history is deduced. No wonder facts are so uncertain where opinions are so divergent.
Roger Q. Mills, who instructed Janesville on unselfish regarding the beauties of free trade, was said to be the maddest man in Texas. "Because of his free-will propensities the governor turned him down in the senatorial race. He will have a chance to serve out his term in the lower house. Texas has just had some political instruction from one Benjamin Harrison, and does not want a free trader in the senate."

John L. Sullivan insists that he was really in earnest when he announced himself as a candidate for congress from the Sixth Massachusetts district. Sullivan is a democrat, and has as much gall as muscle. He and Kilgore of Texas would make a good team to suppress disorder and kick open doors under calls of the house.
A candidate for a local office in a New York town was defeated after this expenditure shown by his report: Professional services, 45 cents; shoe shine, 5 cents; chewing tobacco, 15 cents; wet beer, 60 cents; newspapers, 20 cents; soda water, 10 cents; copying, 15 cents; beer, $2.95, total $4.65. That shoe shine probably defeated him.
Mrs. Grant, it is reported, will leave it to her boys to decide after her death whether they will publish the "Reminiscences of General Grant" that she has been gathering material for. She may, however, change her mind after Butler's book appears if he reflects upon the general.

British soldiers fighting Indians in Hindoostan are more fortunate than American soldiers fighting Indians in Arizona or Dakota. The dispatches announce that in battle last week 200 Manipurs were killed out of 1,000 engaged and the British casualties were one officer killed and four men dead.
A majority of those who read the editorial columns of the Recorder this morning, were curious to know whether the paper was for or against the double license idea endorsed by the people. It might be a good idea for the Recorder to jump off the fence.
Chicago gamblers find something to surprise them every day. They were surprised when the mayor closed the gambling houses and they are more surprised every day that he keeps them closed. Surprise is likely to be their portion for the next two years.
The king of the Chicago board of exchange, "Old Hunk," has re-appeared. Whether it was a fit of mental aberration which took him from view or a desire to affect the market to his advantage by the rise is a matter of conjecture.

Even a person must admit the truth of Mayor St. John's statement, that while selling will be done in every saloon, whether double licenses are taken out or not. To return to the single license regime is to encourage law-breaking.

France has a tariff issue in politics which brings to mind the fact that France is the only great republic of Europe and its most progressive nation.
LICENSE IN OTHER CITIES.
Beloit people insist that the prospects of the city have never been so bright as since "no license" has been.
Preslie du Ohien has a station for every 100 inhabitants.
$2000 each.
Licenses to eight saloons were granted by the Eau Claire city government.
Riviera saloonists are warned that if they violate the law their licenses will be revoked at once.
The vote of the majority on the 7th inst. said that Sharon should go "dry" for another year, but the arrival of thirty kegs of beer in one day indicates that it still remains "wet" in some parts.

BLOOD DISORDERS.
ANY KINDRED DISEASES OF SPRING DISORDER.
SYNOPSIS OF A MEDICAL LECTURE BY DR. S. B. HARTMAN, OF COLUMBUS, O.
SPRING MEDICINES.
The sudden break from the frigid cold of winter to the depressing heat of summer which has been experienced in the last few days, especially in the Northern States, has brought more than the usual amount of spring sickness. The digestive organs, during cold weather, are taxed to furnish sufficient force to maintain the heat of the body against excessive cold, but on the return of warm weather a great deal less food is needed by the system, which thickens the blood with the superfluous products of digestion. If the change from cold to heat is sudden, as is the present season, the effect on the health of the people is more intense and dangerous. The blood soon becomes overloaded with the heavy poisonous matter, which must be thrown off by the kidneys and skin, else serious blood poisoning will surely follow.
The first effect on the system which the blood contamination have is to produce a sleepy, "tired-out" feeling, confusion of the senses, coated tongue, irregular appetite, and shortness of the breath. If nothing is done to cleanse the blood it gradually becomes thicker, until eruptions of the skin appear on one or more parts of the body, especially on the face, and between the shoulders and on the legs. The eruptions usually cause much itching and sensations of heat. If there is any old humor in the system, such as salt rheum, erysipelas, scrofula or syphilis, it is sure to break out in unusual severity.
Unless a proper remedy is used at this stage of the trouble symptoms of kidney disease will soon appear. The irritating poisons which find their way out of the blood through the kidneys will soon cause these organs to become inflamed. "Bright's Disease" or some other organic derangement of the kidneys is the result. It sometimes happens that the poisonous condition of the blood will set up rheumatism, gout, or chronic neuralgia. Thus, by simply neglecting to keep the blood cleansed, the foundation is laid for ill health from which thousands of people never recover.
Any one can escape entirely the above-described ill effects of spring weather, and, instead of dragging drearily through weeks of bad feelings, and perhaps acquiring a fatal disease, find themselves in as excellent spirits and health as at any other time of the year. This is the way it can be done: Get three bottles of Pe-runa and one of Man-a-lin. Take a tablespoonful of Pe-runa before each meal and a small dose of Man-a-lin at bed time. Only enough to produce a natural passage of the bowels each day. This course of treatment is no experiment; it is positive in its results as any fact of science can be. After you have tried it, you will say Pe-runa is positively the best spring medicine you have ever tried. A great many years of extensive trial of these remedies in this class of derangements have demonstrated that there are no failures. The medicines are kept at most drug stores, with full directions for use on each bottle.
A pamphlet of thirty-two pages, fully explaining cause, nature and cure of disorders of spring, will be sent free of charge by The Peruna Medicine Company, of Columbus, Ohio. This pamphlet should be in every household, as by its intelligent use a multitude of ill to which every family is liable would be entirely avoided.
Don't Throw It The Sponge!
That hideous age, Giant Despair, often fastens his clutch upon the chronic invalid. Constantly plagued by dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation—nervous and sleepless too—what wonder is that he has been in vain a multitude of useless remedies he is ready, figuratively speaking, to "throw up the sponge." Let the unfortunate "take heart of grace." Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can and will put a terminus to his trials. It strengthens and stomach, confers nervous vigor by promoting assimilation of the food, soothes the liver when dormant, and relaxes the bowels without pain. The ability to digest and assimilate restored, the ability to sleep follows. Nothing then can stay the renewal of health but imprudence. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, moreover, transcends all others as a remedy for material, rheumatic and kidney complaints. A wingless angel three times a day.

But They Must Be Good Ones.

It is the time now for merchants to take advantage of the demand for pictorial advertising. This demand is not new. On the contrary, it has always existed. Heretofore, however, merchants have chosen to satisfy the demand with pictures which, to say the least, were coarse and repulsive, and which did not properly reflect the taste of the age. It is now time for merchants to use art in their advertising. It is no more expensive than the inartistic method, and gives a certain tone and character to a store which the blatant, boisterous and altogether preposterous cuts do not give.—American Storekeeper.

An Unworthy View.

It is well understood by fair minded business men that local enterprises are dependent on the newspaper, while the newspaper is, to a certain extent, dependent on local enterprises. When the enterprise ignores the newspaper the newspaper must retaliate in kind.—Lancaster (N. H.) Democrat.

A Question of Returns.

"You might just as well set a hen on china eggs and expect to hatch a brood of chickens as to do successful business without advertising," is the way The Monson (Mass.) Mirror states a more or less obvious truth.

The Common Lot.

There is a place no love can reach,
There is a time no voice can teach,
There is a chain no power can break,
There is a sleep no sound can wake.

Sooner or later that time will arrive, that place will wait for your coming, that chain will bind you in helpless death, that sleep must fall on your senses. But thousands every year go untried to their fate, and thousands more lengthen out their days by heedful, timely care. For the failing strength, the weakening organs, the wasting blood, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful restorative and a prolonger of strength and life. It purifies the blood and invigorates the system, thereby fortifying it against disease. Of druggists.

Guaranteed Cure for La Grippe.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell you Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon the condition. If you are afflicted with La Grippe and will use this remedy according to directions, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We make this offer, because of the wonderful success of Dr. King's New Discovery during last season's epidemic. Have heard of no case in which it failed. Try it. Trial bottles at F. Sherer & Co's drug store. Large bottles 75 cents and $1.00.

The Englishman's Breakfast.

An American should always understand what is meant by a breakfast in London. He will probably take breakfast in his lodgings, or if he lives in a hotel, in the coffee room at a fixed charge. There are two distinct classes of breakfast, the light and the substantial, with prices to match. The first is one cup of coffee, one boiled egg and three slices of toast; the latter is one small chop, one egg, a penny loaf of bread, a buttered muffin and coffee. The principal dish of this latter menu is varied in lodgings houses from day to day, the chop becoming sausage on Tuesday, ham on Wednesday, fried sole on Thursday, and then the lonely chop again, with the subsequent rotation kept up ad infinitum.—London Cor. Chicago Herald.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cud, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. J. F. Kneeland, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quick nostrums which are so readily accepted by the ignorant, and which are so often the cause of death."

Dr. J. F. Kneeland, Lowell, Mass.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

ARCHIE REID.

MOXIE: HALF A DAY OF NEW AND VIGOROUS

A harmless, simple food that supercedes the use of stimulants and nervines; recovers nervousness, insomnia, nervous and mental exhaustion, and effects of dissipation at once.

In 1883, while hunting for health in South America, LEONARD MORTON found the people called Food Plant as we do greens. Strapped at the effect on his own nervous system, he shipped a bale to Dr. Thompson, asking him to determine its character. Wherever used, the plant was a solid, durable strength and very good appetite. It cured anything caused by nervous exhaustion; it relieved nervous people who were tired at mentally or physically, stopped the appetite for intoxicants, cured insanity, blindness from overeating the night, paralysis, headache, loss of manhood from excess, made people able to stand twice their amount of work, mentally and physically, with less fatigue. It was found to be neither medicine nor stimulant, but a nerve food as harmless as milk. Women say: "My nervousness and exhaustion went like magic." For sale everywhere.

Baby's Fearful Suffering from Skin Disease Covered Entire Body Cured by Cuticura.

My baby was taken very sick when he was three months old. In a few days he began breaking out. We employed both a home doctor, and they could do nothing for him. Then we sent for the best doctor in town. He told us that the best thing to do was to use Cuticura. We did so, and in a few days the skin cleared up. JUST LIKE ONE OF THE FORCE.

Police Sergeant—Well, what has this man been doing?

Officer O'Drog—Impersonating an officer, sir. When I found him sitting drunk on a beer keg he said he had just stopped there a minute to tie his shoestrings.—Judge.

Not Pressed for Time.

The train made a stopping at the twenty-ninth crossing and then the mid-looking passenger turned and blandly inquired of the conductor what was the matter with the train.

The Conductor (surlily)—If you don't like the way this train runs you can get off and walk.

The Blind Passenger (more affably than ever)—Oh, never mind—I'm in no special hurry.—Epoch.

A Stroke of Luck.

Doodles—Just had a tremendous piece of luck.

Noodles—As how?

Doodles—Why, I met Snyder, and he struck me for two dollars.

Noodles—Well?

Doodles—Why, I hadn't a cent. Say, can you lend me five dollars?

Noodles—No, I'm in the same good luck.—Harper's Bazar.

The Force of Circumstances.

Mrs. Petyer—Can you wash?

Matilda Snowball—Oh course I kin wash, if it has ter be.

"Can you cook?"

"If it has ter be, ob course I kin cook."

"Are you honest?"

"You bet I'm honest, if I has ter be."

—Texas Siftings.

A Question of Degree.

Mrs. Bingo—My dear, you are late again, as usual.

Bingo—Yes, darling, I had to stop at the tailor's and order a pair of trousers.

Mrs. Bingo—I suppose (sniff) if you had ordered a suit he would have given you a whole bottle of whisky.—Jury.

At the Delicate Class.

Instructress—Now, young ladies, sit like this. Relax all your muscles, but keep your thoughts on yourself and endeavor to feel that you are breathing through every pore in your body. Feel just like a great big sponge gradually absorbing moisture.

Ethel (to friend)—Do you feel like "a great big sponge," Nellie? I'm sure you ought to, for you let me pay all the car fares this morning.—Munsey's Weekly.

Auxiliary to Please.

"Pat, I thought I hired you to carry bricks up that ladder by the day."

"Ye did, sure."

"Well, I've been watching you and you've only done it a half a day to-day. The other half you spent coming down the ladder."

"Oh! I try to be doin' better to-morrow, sure."—Jury.

Not Exactly Disposed of.

Brown—What became of that girl of yours, who used to cost you so much money?

Hughes—She's married now.

"I suppose you see fluster, now that you have gotten rid of her."

"Well, you see, I didn't exactly get rid of her. She's my wife now."—Light.

Mental Photographs.

Ho (after marriage)—What? You have no fortune? You said over and over again that you were afraid someone would marry you for your money.

She—Yes, and you said over and over again that you would be happy with me if I hadn't a cent. Well, I haven't a cent.—N. Y. Weekly.

In the Clock Room.

Representative Bustum (in the course of argument)—If we are not sent here to represent the ideas of our constituents, what are we here for?

Representative Wiregrass—Wa-al, so far as I kin see, I was sent here to represent the views of my wife and the gals.—Puck.

True Repentance.

Little Harry—Paul struck me with his shovel to hard he broke it.

Mamma (astonished)—Where is Paul?

"He's gone into the house crying."

"I should think you would be the one to cry."

"Oh, he's crying because he broke the shovel."—Light.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

Father (coming in parlor in early morning)—I guess Clara and her feller must have had a scrap last evening, their chairs are so far apart.

The scrap—Jury.

ALWAYS SOLD QUARTS.

Saloon Men Say Wholesaling Was Never Denied.

ALL SOLD IN QUANTITIES.

Local Liquor Dealers Expose the Workings of the Personal Liberty League, and Say It Has Done More Harm Than Good to the Saloons.

A canvass among the saloon men of the city develops the fact that a number engaged in the sale of liquors favor the adoption of the double license policy recommended by Mayor St. John. This opinion is not confined wholly to those engaged in the regular wholesale trade. "What the mayor said in his message concerning the saloon men was true," said a saloonier. Every saloon keeper in the city, with perhaps one or two exceptions, have always sold liquors by the bottle when called for, and they will do so again, whether they are compelled to take a double license or not.

"There is another little game played among the saloon men you ought to expose; it is in connection with this 'Personal Liberty League.' The league has headquarters in Milwaukee, and some one must be making a good thing out of it. Last fall they drew on me for fifty dollars, for political purposes, of course, I paid no attention to it, not even answered the letter. Other saloon men were drawn on to the extent of five, ten, fifteen dollars, and so on as they were rated at headquarters. They have a list of every saloon keeper in the state, and must reap a good harvest from these assessments. Several saloon men here refused to pay, the same as myself. They drew on us under the plea that it would be necessary to keep a lobby at Madison during the legislative session.

"Now, I think the mayor is right, and I hope he and the council will hold on to the ball's horns and enforce the law to the very letter. Don't go half way about it, but insist on a strict enforcement and compliance. The saloon men are, in my opinion, responsible for the whole of this agitation. They have been the ones that have pushed it to the front. They rush into politics, form private and secret rings for the sole purpose of controlling political nominations, and work openly at the polls with men and money to keep the saloon at the front. If they would quit this work they would be better off. It is the best possible campaign for high license, or complete prohibition. You watch and see."

A west-side saloon keeper, who has been engaged in the retail liquor trade many years in this city, takes the same ground. He has been a life-long democrat, but says he has discussed this question with members of the Personal Liberty League, and endeavored to stop the agitation on the part of the league. "The truth is," said he, "the league members are mostly foreign born citizens, many of them hardly know what liberty is, and some of them care less. I have frequently told them that if they would disband their organization, they would serve their interests much better. If the saloon men keep up this fight they will surely vote a five hundred dollar license next September."

"I shall put down my four hundred dollars to-day for a double license," said William Katers; "I don't like this agitation on the part of the saloon men. Understand me, the saloon men are not all in it; I know of a number who will walk up to the captain's office and put down their money without a word. They think this talk all wrong, and are fearful that the agitation will so work up the people against the saloons that this will be the last time they will have an opportunity to get a license for even four hundred dollars. I believe now the people will vote a five hundred dollar license and settle the quarrel. Then you see, some in the council may insist on a double license, and set it up to seven hundred dollars, the same as they did in Beloit last year."

BRIDGE JOISTS ROTTEN

Starting Reports Afloat Concerning the Milwaukee Street Structure.

"Is Milwaukee street bridge safe?" was the question asked on the street last evening. The question arose from the fact that while men were engaged setting the Doty electric light poles, they were compelled to enter one of the bridge timbers at the east end of the bridge, and found that the end of the joist resting on the abutment, had rotted completely through. No further examination was made, but it was feared from this that the ends of other joists were in a like rotten condition.

It was soon developed, however, that there was no real danger. The joists that had rotted were those exposed to the drooping of water from gutters. Joists that are covered by the block pavement are perfectly sound and are ample to sustain any weight that may be placed upon it.

HAD NO USE FOR RATS.

Wing Ching Objects to Additions to His Laundry Sign.

"I catch boy I killed him!" That was the baffling mystery of the remarks made by Wing Ching, second mate in the Chinese laundry on West Milwaukee street as he danced about on the sidewalk. The reason of his anger was quite evident. Ching had a sign in front of his store which reads "laundry," and the sign is placed perpendicularly. Between the letters somebody had marked with chalk "Rats Wanted."

"Bet you that boy I killed," declared the Chinaman as he washed off the sign. Then he went in to beat a distinction for the boy's special talent in case he caught him.

TWO HEADS ON ONE LAMB.

A La Prairie Monstrosity Now Shown in This City.

A lamb with two heads attracted a good deal of attention at Frank F. Pierson's gun shop to-day and kept Frank busy explaining that it was brought to his shop, to be stuffed, by Mrs. Weller, of the town of La Prairie. The lamb was born with two heads in one. It has two eyes and two ears. Mrs. Weller says the lamb lived three days after it was born, the feeding it with a tea spoon. It could as equally well with either mouth.

NO LICENSE FOR LAW-BREAKERS

This is the Declaration Made by Aldermen Today.

Several saloon keepers are just now much concerned about the council standing license to all applicants, and stand ready with their four hundred dollars as soon as the door is open for applicants. The bold language of Mayor St. John, recommending the council to refuse licenses to persons who have violated the law, and to those who keep their saloons connected with dwelling houses, puts them on a barbed wire fence of anxiety. One double-license alderman was approached this morning by a saloon man, whose name has figured in the courts, and was asked what course the council would adopt.

"I can only speak for myself," said the alderman, "I will assure you right now, that Mayor St. John spoke my sentiments regarding persons who should be refused license, and if my vote will carry out that idea it will surely be adopted."

The question has created much talk, and the people appear to be largely with the mayor.

NOTES FROM POST HALL

Dr. Whiting in Charge of Memorial Day Exercises.

E. M. HYZER TO BE ORATOR

W. H. Sargent Post's Relief Fund the Largest in the State—Ladies of the Grand Army's the Latest Organization—Memorial Day Programme.

Dr. J. B. Whiting will be officer of the day and E. M. Hyzer orator, at the Memorial day exercises this year. Band and by a quartette which has not yet been made up. All the committees of arrangements have been appointed and are at work on the various details.

The new order, Ladies of the G. A. R., is spreading rapidly and is now working in nearly every northern state. It differs somewhat from the W. R. C. but its aims are of the same high order. Those eligible to membership are the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of honorably discharged Union Veterans.

Col. W. B. Britton will be the only Janesville man who will be present in an official capacity at the Detroit encampment. He will go as aide-de-camp to Commander-in-Chief Vesey. Others will go, however, in the capacity of high privates.

The Janesville drum corps project is being vigorously pushed. Melodious sounds of fife and drum that from Post hall nearly every night.

Confederate soldiers observed April 6 at New Orleans, as Southern Memorial Day.

There are now fourteen thousand Wisconsin members of the Grand Army.

The relief fund of W. H. Sargent Post is the largest in the state.

THE SEA KING TO-NIGHT.

A Strong Attraction at Myers' Grand Opera House This Evening.

The first Janesville production of the new romantic opera comique, "The Sea King," by the William J. Gilmore Company, will occupy this evening at the Myers.

If the praise that comes from other cities can be relied upon, it will be an artistic triumph. The music of the "Sea King" is said to be the most costly contribution that has been offered for a long time, it being bright and of a melodious construction. It is claimed to be original and pretty, graceful and ear-catching, and possesses several exceedingly taking waltzes and other light and breezy melodies, and well marked and inspiring rhythms. The harmonies, it is said to be original, tasty and interspersed now and then with excellent bits of dramatic writing.

The scene of the Sea King is laid in Spain and the time is the latter part of the sixteenth century. There is a certain Mateo de Querezo, who is a banished heir to the dukedom of Valencia, and who temporarily supports himself and his followers by smuggling. This is "The Sea King." The other important characters are Don Bambaloni, the chief farceur in the opera, who has assumed the place of Mateo, and who is a sort of a stage Colombine in search of a wife, but finding one by reason of his niece, a maiden who contributes a part of the romantic interest to the proceedings; Rosita, a sprightly and coquettish village beauty; Donna Oliva, a portly and experienced duenna, and Pedro, Don Bambaloni's secretary.

MADE 5000 MEN BETTER.

Rev. B. Fay Mills' Meeting in Cleveland Very Successful.

The following, taken from an article in the News and Herald of Cleveland, of the date of April 23, indicates something of the result of the Mills' meeting in Cleveland:

Rev. B. Fay Mills conducted another successful and highly interesting meeting at Plymouth church last evening. The church was crowded to the doors and many members of the audience signed cards indicating their desire to lead Christ's life. The afternoon meeting was well attended, and resulted in a number of conversions. All the meetings held during the day were even more successful than has been reported.

Rev. Mr. Mills has now been in the city for two weeks and he said yesterday that never in all his work as an evangelist had he seen such good results as occurred in this city. It has been shown by exact reports that two thousand of the cards received, and henceforth to lead a Christian life," were signed last Monday. More than five thousand cards have been signed since the work began in the city. One of the most interesting meetings was that of five hundred Sunday school teachers and workers on Saturday evening, when one pastor, superintendent, and teacher after another told of the whole school "swayed clean."

In a school of sixteen hundred members over three hundred cards had been signed and three hundred more expected. In another ninety, in another a hundred, and so on down to thirty in one of the mission schools.

At the Sunday evening service at Plymouth church over a hundred men put down their names, and nearly all of them spoke in the afternoon meeting. A prominent lady in the city said: "I have not seen anything like this in Cleveland since I was a little girl, in Dr. Ellis' time over thirty years ago."

Mr. Mills is expected to arrive here May 12.

The Domestic Sewing Machine.

Improvement is the order of the age, and the Domestic Sewing Machine company are not far behind in the race for improvements. The Domestic machine is very complete and among other improvements is a single stitch attachment for embroidery. By the use of this device a lady can embroider the most difficult design with ease, and do the work much nicer than she can by hand. The automatic bobbin winder is another great improvement. A simple device guides the thread while winding bobbins and the operator does not have to touch the thread. The vibrating presser foot is another improvement. By its use straight seams can be run with ease, and turning a sewer allows the cloth to be moved in any direction. P. S. Peterson is the agent for the domestic, and his office is with Frank Peterson.

POISONED BY WILD PARSNIPS

Children Eat the Succulent Root and Suffer For It.

Reports come in of children being poisoned by eating wild parsnips near Evansville. Editor Libby suggests that children are always anxious to get hold of early, succulent roots, and the wild parsnip is almost the first one seized upon. Many don't know that they are poisonous until they eat them. Then if a physician is not immediately at hand the case proves fatal. Newspaper items do not always carry that conviction with them what actual experience does.

ROCK COUNTY STAR ROUTES.

Contractors Arranging To Carry Mail From Evansville.

Several mail contractors have been dividing their time between this city and Evansville for some past, letting contracts for carrying mails on different routes leading out of Evansville. The one connecting Evansville with Edgerton via Oskosh, seems to be the worst difficulty, so far as to responsible parties. It is a daily route, with small pay, and a long road to travel.

Mr. Carman has the route from Edgerton to Albion after the first of July, and will take up his residence in the former city about that time. It is not definitely known who will be his successor.

CARS WILL RUN TO-MORROW.

Milton Avenue Line To Be Repaired Next Week.

Superintendent Blank, of the street railway, brought the cars down to the car barns this morning, and is getting everything in order to put them running to Oak Hill and Mount Olivet cemeteries to-morrow. Next week the Milton avenue line will then be in operation. Superintendent Blank intends arranging a time, which will be followed closely in moving cars. It will be arranged to suit the convenience of working people, who have to go to work early in the morning, and will be so arranged as to connect with all trains at the depot.

Two cars will be run Sunday afternoon on the cemetery line, commencing at 1 o'clock from the East Milwaukee street barns, the second car leaving at 1:30. Trips will be made every hour until 6 o'clock.

CARKEEK STILL WRESTLES.

He Visits The Bower City and Talks Shop.

Jack Carkeek, the wrestler, was in the city this morning. When asked whether he would quit the wrestling business he said that he had thought some of it.

"But a man can't always do just as he wants to," he explained. "I am going to Chicago next week to work with Parson Davis. Now, I have no big matches arranged just at present. Which one of these trains go to Beloit? That one? Well, good bye, and he of the drooping red mustache and celebrated arm-and-hammer-lock swung aboard the train that would carry him to the Line City.

AFTER A PIANO PEDDLER.

Local Dealers Send the Sheriff After a Transient Dealer.

J. W. Harper, agent for the Webster piano, left town suddenly yesterday afternoon. Harper was canvassing and selling pianos. Janesville piano dealers got after him and wanted him to take out a license, and to that end officers took him in charge.

"You must appear in court at 9 o'clock," said the sheriff in reply to Webster's protest about going to jail.

"I'll be there," replied the piano merchant.

But he wasn't. When his case was called he failed to appear. The city dealers are rid of him anyway, and that was all that was wanted.

TEN MEN CAUGHT A FISH.

Heavy Haul of Rock Bass By the Lorna Party.

Ten true Janesville sportsmen dragged half drowned minnows and revolving spoons through the muddy waters of Rock river at Indian Ford yesterday. By united effort they managed to land a half pound rock bass.

The party went up the river in the new launch, Lorna. George McKay ran the machinery and Frank Behrend handled the wheel, and kept the gallant craft headed "Nor-by-nor-east."

At least that is what he called it, and presumably he knew.

The balance of the party were Richard Valentine, C. P. McLean, W. P. Bayles, F. O. Barpee, R. H. McKinney, R. J. Whitton, A. P. Davis and W. E. Evanson. The half pound bass will be served at banquet at some future date and each member of the party will receive his proportionate share—four-fifths of an ounce.

A sand bag with a push cover is a most useful present to any one who drives much in wintry weather. A canvas bag contains the sand, which should not be packed too tight. This may be warmed at any time in the oven and then slipped into the cover, which is a push or valve bag with handles like a child's school bag. This placed in the carriage or sleigh will retain the heat a long time and give great comfort.

RIVER LOT ON MAIN STREET

Farmers Report That Seeding Is One Week Later Than Usual—Grip Cases in the Hospital—Change of Time on the St. Paul Road.

The two Turks and Turkish women, who have been resorting a dancing bear about Rock and Walworth counties for the last two weeks, went to the Sharon bank one day last week and exchanged 280 dimes for large money, the income of dancing and begging, to which they added sufficient coin of other denominations to swell the total amount to $65. A strong smell, too much for the cashier, required him to wash and otherwise disinfect the coin before putting it away.
